TRYING FOR ARMY WEIGHT

Young Man Startles Restaurant Patrons
When He Ravenously Gulps
Down Water and Food.

The young man strolled into a Sixth avenue restaurant of the better type and quietly gave his order. There was nothing conspicuous about his manner or appearance, but when the bus boy came along and the young man asked for, received, and drank four glasses of water in rapid succession, persons near by stared at him out of the whites of their eyes, so to speak.

Presently the waiter returned with a huge steak and about six types of vegetables. The young man asked for two glasses of water and proceeded to eat slowly. The water was brought and drunk, and the young man carefully devoured the vast supply of food before him. Then he ordered chicken, with potatoes au gratin, and two glasses of water.

Just when the now thoroughly interested observers of this strange repast were on the verge of irritation from curiosity another young man strolled in and sat down disconsolately across from the first.

"It's all off," said the newcomer; "no Pittsburgh for me. I weigh 138 and I needed 161. Gosh, it seems as if I can never make anything."

The first young man looked at him intently and thoughtfully.

"I got all my papers through," he said, "but I don't weigh in until three o'clock."

He turned to the attentive waiter.

"Will you please," he said, "bring me an apple turnover, some rice pudding, a Napoleon, and two cups of coffee."—New York Herald.

PERSHING KNOWS RED MEN

Noted General Has Had Much Experience with Indians, and They Would Receive Welcome.

"If a contingent of American Indians is sent to France to fight for Uncle Sam against the central powers they will find a warm welcome from General Pershing," Col. J. A. George of South Dakota remarked recently, according to the Washington Post.

"General Pershing has been a friend of the Indians for many years. He commanded a company of Sioux Indian scouts in the Sioux war of 1890-1891, and has lived among the red men for a good many years.

"I happened to be at the Pine Ridge Indian reservation in South Dakota during the winter of 1890-1891, when Pershing was a second lieutenant. He participated in the battle of Wounded Knee and remained on the reservation for months after the surrender of the Sioux scouts.

"In the summer of 1891 Pershing received promotion to first lieutenant, while he was at the head of the Sioux scouts. His brother, who was with him then, a kid boy, afterward became an officer, but retired a few years later because of ill health, while Black Jack went on to great things.

"Of course, it would be silly for me to say that Pershing is a first-class officer, for his present position as head of the American forces in France proves that, but I may say that as far back as 1890 Pershing showed that he was destined to become one of the great figures in the military history of this country."

Legal Advisory Board and Auxiliaries

In order that the work of filling out the Questionnaires of the registrants enrolled on September 12, 1918, and thereafter, may be speedily accomplished, the Legal Advisory Board of this county have appointed the following Auxiliaries Boards, so that registrants may be able to have their Questionnaires filled out and get the supporting affidavits at home, and thus save the time, trouble and expense of a trip to the county seat. The small fee that Notaries Public and Justices of the Peace may charge will be much less than the expense of a trip to the county seat. Also, the work will be quickly done and the burden more evenly distributed.

LOVE AS SEEN IN FICTION
Lafcedio Hearn's Idea Was That Its Treatment Should Be to Make Conditions Higher.

Lafcedio Hearn says of the treatment of love in fiction that as the purpose of art should be to portray or make possible conditions higher than existing ones and that as the passion of love is a period of idealism, of imagining better things and conditions than are possible in this world, it should be the province of the novelist to treat of the ideal.

"The time of illusion is the beautiful moment of passion; it represents the artistic zone in which the poet or romance writer ought to be free to do the very best that he can. He may go beyond that zone; but then he has only two directions in which he can travel. Above it there is religion, and an artist may, like Dante, succeed in transforming love into a sentiment of religious ecstasy. I do not think that any artist could do that today; this is not an age of religious ecstasy. But upward there is no other way to go. Downward the artist may travel until he finds himself in hell. Between the zone of idealism and the brutality of realism there are no doubt many gradations. I am only indicating what I think to be an absolute truth, that in treating of love the literary master should keep to the period of illusion, and that to go below it is a dangerous undertaking."

BRANSON

Since the rains have set in there has been a wonderful change in the appearance of the country.

Work is still slowly progressing on the bluff road between Branson and Presbyterian Hill, and an excellent job is being done. The same is true of the Boston ridge road north of Branson. We will keep on in this part of the country until we get good roads in every direction.

Dr. Guy B. Mitchell of Branson has entered the service of his country and left on Sunday for Fort Riley, Kansas, to put in a few months in training before being sent to the front in France. He received a commission as captain in the medical corps of the United States Army, and reported for duty on two days notice. Dr. Mitchell is now in his second term as member of the legislature from Taney county. His great executive ability has recently been shown as chairman of the Taney County War Savings Committee, when our county was the first in the Ozarks to go "over the top."

Day by day the ranks of our men are being thinned out. Many are going to war, while others are going to work in lumber camps or in big factories that are making things to help prosecute and win the war.

The public schools of Branson opened Monday morning, with a good attendance.

The outing season is now practically over, but there will yet be many hunting and fishing parties, as the best fishing time is yet to come.

One of the pleasantest social occasions ever held in Branson was a banquet given to Dr. Guy B. Mitchell last Saturday evening at the Branson Hotel. The affair was impromptu but was a notable success. There were forty-four persons at the table, and the spread was of the best. J. C. McManima was toast master, and responses were made by W. D. Fulbright, V. C. Todd, Dr. John A. Mitchell, F. A. Cahill and R. D. Culver, and all were timely and well delivered. When the guest of the evening was introduced as Captain Guy B. Mitchell of the United States Army, the cheers and applause were so great as to embarrass him, but he made a most feeling and appropriate address of appreciation. The occasion will long be remembered by those present.

BRADLEYVILLE

We have been having plenty of rain during the past week. Earl Hicks made a trip to Forsyth the first of the week. Mrs. Wright, daughter Ruth and Mrs. Savage went to Hollister Tuesday. Ruth remained to attend the S. of O. Hazel McPherson and Grace Reese left Sunday for Forsyth, where they attend school this year.

Russell Siler and Drew Smith, who are now in training, were in town this week. E. L. Mills and wife made a trip to Springfield last week.

Christine Ewing is visiting her aunts, Mesdames Bud Hicks and B. F. Scoggins, of the place.

Brown Morrison is in town buying cattle.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Slusher, the 7th inst.

Reggie Merritt and family of Sparta are visiting relatives in this place.

Mr. Leiza Jackson died suddenly Saturday morning. She leaves four children, Mrs. Mary Collins of Oklahoma, Mrs. Josie Merritt of Sparta and S. M. and J. R. Jackson of this place. She also leaves many other relatives to mourn her departure. The body was laid to rest in the Bradleyville cemetery to await the resurrection.

Rev. Robert Jackson conducted the funeral services.

Quite a number of our people spent Saturday cleaning the cemetery.

W. E. Fent and wife are moving to Chadwick.

Mr. Ridenour and family are preparing to move to Oklahoma.

The Jackson brothers, Earl Hicks and Ralph McPherson departed Sunday for Springfield to enter school.

Aunt Frankie Mosley is very ill at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherrod of Hercules were in town Wednesday of last week.

Orchards by the Wayside.

Wayside orchards are quite a feature of the roads in many parts of Herefordshire. Damsons are the trees usually planted for this purpose, and along many of the main roads they have been planted in the hedges at intervals of a few yards for considerable distances.

Great masses of snowy bloom in spring and the purple of ripening fruit in the late summer do much to add to the beauty of one of the most beautiful counties in England.

Some enterprising farmers have planted damson trees in every hedge on the farm, and the damson crop is quite a considerable factor in their agricultural returns. Tons of the fruit are gathered in a half-ripe state and used for dyeing purposes.—London Chronicle.
